

2010 Pollution Prevention School Challenge Recognition Ceremony

SLO County Government Center, Monterey Street
Wednesday, December 1 at 9:00 a.m.

WHO: The APCD Board will hold a special recognition ceremony at its December 1 meeting to honor the winners of the 2010 Pollution Prevention School Challenge for their efforts to preserve our natural resources and protect the air and the environment.

WHAT: The 2010 School Challenge was aimed to spotlight school programs that reduced pollution and challenge local youth to think of ways they can reduce air pollution at their school or classroom. The three winning schools (Mission College Preparatory High School, Trinity Lutheran School and Liberty High School) will talk briefly about their projects and one class will perform their "Pollution Solution" song.

Displays of the honorees' efforts are on exhibit at the SLO County Government Center through December 6.

WHERE: SLO County Government Center-Board of Supervisors Chambers,
1055 Monterey Street

WHEN: Wednesday, December 1 at 9:00 a.m. – a great opportunity to meet the 2010 Pollution Prevention School Challenge Award recipients and learn more about their projects to enhance SLO County's environment!

WHY: APCD acknowledges Pollution Prevention by honoring local youth leaders for their projects that show innovative and progressive efforts to preserve the air quality at their school and in their community. The APCD would also like to thank Doc Burnstein's Ice Cream Lab for their generous donation of ice cream for the winners.
